

STRANGE & SUPERSTITIOUS ITINERARY

---

This region is noted for a famous outlaw from Sherwood Forest but fact is often stranger than legend. For those who like their history gruesome and strange our region is rich in possibility.

At Southwell the Workhouse offers a glimpse of how the poor were sometimes treated in Victorian Britain. Whilst the plague village of Eyam tells the story of sacrifice, as a small community sought to contain the spread of the disease. At Creswell you will discover the largest assemblage of ritual protective 'Witch Marks' in the UK. These marks were created over 400 years and rooted in a period of superstition and fear.

---

Southwell Workhouse

The Workhouse, Upton Road, Southwell, Nottinghamshire, NG25 0PT

Eyam Plague Village & Museum

Hawkhill Road, Eyam, Hope Valley, Derbyshire, S32 5QP

Witch Marks at Creswell Crags

Creswell Crags, Crags Rd, Welbeck, Worksop, Notts, S80 3LH